The regular dance under the auspices of the Assembly Club will be held in the opera house on Friday evening, March 1st. The orchestra will be in the band, and as usual, the ladies are requested to supply the refreshments.

There was a very interesting Socialist meeting in Gimco's Hall on Monday evening, about twenty gentlemen being present. The speaker was given a patient hearing for two hours, and his arguments in favor of socialism were well received.

The contractors for the grave for cement sidewalks are making good progress, about twenty loads a day being delivered to the town. With all the material on the ground, the council will be able to begin construction work just as soon as the frost is out of the ground and have all the improvements completed early in the season.

Railway, Allan and Day streets will have cement walks this summer.

Council Meeting

The council met last night with all members present except Councillor Hutton. After the meeting was called to order, delegates from the Board of Trade who were appointed to ask the council for a grant for publicity purposes, addressed the board and placed their proposition before it. They asked for $500 towards getting out literature and other publicity work, and agreed to raise a like amount in town. The matter will be considered later.

Mr. Caldwell addressed the council on the matter of planting trees on the streets. He would deliver maples at $16 a hundred, or plant them and see that they were alive after one year for one dollar each. The matter was laid over for further consideration.

The Finance and Public Works Committee presented their report, which was of a routine nature. A by-law to refund to W. O. Bray $100 of his 1911 license was passed. This by-law was opposed by the council on the grounds that as the license had been peddled around for some months after the fire the holder was not entitled to the refund for the whole period claimed. However, as the Provincial License Department had given him the refund, it was up to the council to follow suit, there being no alternative.

The question of getting the sand hauled from the Lake bed and the spring break-up was left to the Public Works Committee.

The matter of the slaughter house in the west end of town was referred to in no unfeeling terms by the members of the Council. That the conditions prevailing in past years would not be tolerated any longer was the unanimous opinion of the entire board. The matter will be at once taken up with the provincial authorities and action initiated upon it. Then the council went into committee of the whole to consider the striking off of several thousands of dollars of old uncollectable taxes, which have accumulated from the first year of incorporation. These arrears have littered the books for years, adding greatly to the work in town office. As most of the money is against the C. P. R., and as the C. P. R. is not now, or never was, liable for taxes, the town will be very little out by this action. It was decided that all lands in town in arrears for taxes for two years or more would be advertised for sale immediately. Owners of land against which taxes have accumulated should remember that immediately they are sold they will have to pay 10 per cent. to redeem them, besides the heavy cost of advertising and sale.

The Government will be asked by the council to have an engineer sent here to straighten out an apparent mistake in the survey where the Edmonton Trail intersects Day St. At present a piece of land juts out from Day St. across the Edmonton trail, causing the residents on Bailey Ave. and other streets in that part of the town to make a long detour to get on to Day St.

The adjourned meeting will be held in the hall tomorrow, Thursday, evening at 8 o'clock.

HOCKEY FRIDAY'S GAME

On Friday evening the Maritimes of Edmonton, second best team in that city, and also of the A. A. H. A. played an exhibition game with the senior team of this town, winning out by a score of 6 to 5. The game was rough but close and some good hockey was witnessed.

Arrangements were made to play Lacombe again on Saturday evening so the Maritimes stayed over.

On Saturday evening the Lacombe team succeeded in holding the Maritimes down to a 4-4 tie. The game was close all through and play was well distributed. There was considerable rough play and chopping from both sides. This was due largely to the fact that the Judge of play was not watching the players or the game either for that matter. Combination work was in evidence from both sides whenever practicable and a number of spectacular individual plays were pulled off much to the delight of the admirers of such.

The score at full time was 4-4. The score after considerable discussion of the money is against the C. P. R., and as the C. P. R. is not now, or never was, liable for taxes, the town will be very little out by this action.

The Maritimes were on their return trip from Calgary where they lost out to the Calgary Hockey Club. They therefore broke even on their trip, winning one, losing one, and drawing one.

The lineup was the same as in the first game with the exception that Jackson and Macdonald exchanged places.

LAST NIGHT'S GAME
The Epworth League of the Methodist Church and the remainder of the Intermediate-Intermediates on the League team tried conclusions at the rink last night before a small crowd, which resulted in a tie-1-1.

On Wednesday evening last the Epworth League held a most enjoyable Valentine Social. The gentlemen provided the boxes and the ladies bought them. Although there were more boxes than ladies they really all reached the limit which was 50 cents.

The boxes, on the whole, were so good and tempting that some of the ladies bought two or three of them. After supper the names of about twenty men and women, the letters of which were written out of their order on small pieces of paper and pinned to the walls, and which the young people were expected to guess properly, were read by Mr. Ray Currie. A number had them all down correctly.

THE CLIVE REPORTER

Published Under the Auspices of the Clive Board of Trade

The News of the Village

Mr. D. C. Alexander, formerly in charge of the Alberta Pacific Elevator here, was around calling on his old friends last week. We understand that he is hoping to move here in the near future. Some reasonable time should be mentioned when yards should be cleared of all waste material and refuse. Then, after sufficient warning is given a penalty should be imposed for non-compliance. One practice that has hitherto prevailed, and we have probably all been transgressors, is to dump refuse and manure on the townships. This should be promptly stopped for the sake of decency and health. Regulation should call for the dumping of all garbage for a certain distance beyond the townships. Of course the cities have incinerators, but the informal practice of dumping all waste materials must be stopped. This varies generally from half a mile to two miles. Cleanliness and good appearance demands this regulation, but more especially does public health. The fly is regarded as the greatest enemy to good health. He is the conveyor of disease germs from unsavory places to the dwellings of man. His natural breeding place and feeding ground is the waste material heap. He will travel considerable distances from his lair. Let him have his habitat too far away to reach us.

Mr. Perry, of Haynes, has been seriously ill last week, but she is now recovering as rapidly as her friends could wish. The social held at H. Elliott's in Pleasant Valley on Tuesday evening of last week was a good success. The Ladies Aid of Spring Valley, under whose auspices it was held, realized a sum which amply rewarded their efforts. A large number were in attendance. The car situation here has improved somewhat, but much remains yet to be done in the supply of cars before it can be said to be satisfactory. An informal gathering took place on Thursday evening to discuss car supply.

The village council met on Wednesday evening to form plans to look into the business of the townships. The regulations were ordered for the use of the Secretary-Treasurer. The matter of fire protection was discussed and negotiations were begun which may possibly solve the problem for the near future. Mr. Perry, Jr., has purchased the livery building and business held by Mr. J. T. Reynolds. It is his purpose to erect a shed where vehicles may be stored. Mr. Bell's little girl has been sick, suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. Willough, our local barber, left on Monday last, for a visit to Kansas. His father is at present ill and his visit home may mean two months' absence. He has secured a substitute from Erskine to conduct the business at the old stand while he is away. Mr. Breton has stored away his new supply of ice for the coming season. An announcement may be looked for soon in regard to the opening of the Golden Rod Creamery at an early date.

Mr. Anderson, the cattle buyer, arrived in town Saturday morning last. Louis Ebeling's sawing outfit has been stationed at Fred Fisher's for about three weeks past. The supply of logs has been quite constant. What will not make lumber is reduced to cordwood.

Mr. Perry has left for Cranbrook, B. C. to dispose of all his interests there, preparatory to moving to Clive. His family are at present at Wainwright, Alberta. The debate on "Professional vs. Amateur Athletics," on Monday evening, was well sustained by both sides. Mr. N. Meadows, F. Fulthorp and N. Longstreet upheld the former, and S. McNally, W. Gross and J. Toes the latter. The decision was a close one, but in favor of the latter.

Mr. A. Ginger has begun the construction of his house on the south side of the track. Mr. Yeatman is the builder. The services here on Sunday last were taken by Mr. S. McNally, the pastor being absent on an official visit to the Indian mission at Battle River, near Ponoka.

Grain has begun to move out. For the time being ending Saturday, fourteen cars have been shipped, seven were loaded on the track and seven at the elevator. During the same time twenty car loads of hay have left. It looks like old times to see produce passing to market in such quantities. A great quantity yet remains to be disposed of.

Cleaning Up
It looks just now as if spring would soon arrive and with it balmy breath dissolve away all signs of the past winter. Then it will surprise us to see what an amount of waste material has accumulated during the winter. When one citizen gets his hoe and rake out and commences to clean up, his neighbor sees the necessity in his own yard. It becomes contagious.

A clean looking village is an inviting thing for a stranger to see. An untidy one with a few refuse heaps around creates a bad impression at once. These strangers come from places, generally, where the town's regulations regarding refuse matter is enforced by the health officer and the contrast to him is sharp and noticed at first sight. We want to be a model community in this respect and therefore some concentrated action is necessary.

Need Night Service
While we are writing on this matter of telephone service, we say something about installing a night service at Clive for the use of telephone subscribers. It is the regulation of the Telephone Department that when a town commands one hundred exchanges to grant it night service. And yet there must be some elasticity to this rule, for we were informed the other day that Ponoka has been promised a night service when they have only six hundred exchanges. Several towns have over one hundred rural telephones connected with central already, but these are towns large enough to have a night service now. So the problem does not arise there. Next year Clive, already having eighty-eight rural phones connected with central, will have considerably over a hundred. It is probable that this will be a unique case. It may be that Clive will have to create a new regulation, and secure a new regulation in the matter.

The rural subscriber really requires a night service more than the town subscriber. He may have to call a physician or a veterinarian at short notice at night. The town subscriber gets on by walking a few blocks but the man in the country must drive many miles, sometimes in inclement weather. Then, again, in the summer season the farmer is out in the field at 7:00 and central opens only at 9:00 a. m. He is generally busy till 8 p. m. or after at night. The only time to secure long distance for him is during the noon hour or at the time of the evening meal. There are many calls then for long distance and he may fail to make use of it for that day. After 8 p. m. or before 8 in the morning he cannot call up a neighbor who happens to be on another line. The business man has the whole day to get his long distance message and also can get some use of the cheaper service at night.

We are living in a country where the measure of a man's needs should be the measure of his rights. Let the telephone subscribers connecting at Clive be prepared when the new rural lines shall be put in next year to organize and secure a night service. It might mean for a time a slight increase in rates, but it would be worth it. Nothing can be gained by waiting. The situation created here will be probably the first one in the province and it will be laid up on Clive to solve the problem. If we are content to wait till we secure from fifty to a hundred exchanges in this village or town, as the case may be, in order to install night service, it may take a few months yet. The most enthusiastic booster would put in several years anyway. We will have a good case when the time comes, and it should be promptly presented. In the meantime, it would be a good plan to investigate and see how the matter lies.

Swat That Fly
We have more to say about that fly, and this is the best time to say it. You will find him about the house, crawling lazily about or on the window pane. Dispatch him at once. One fly killed now means a million less in August. The old adage can be improved upon to say a little in time saves 999,999. Try it this year, kill them all off without mercy, and you will be surprised to find what immunity you will have later in the season from these pests. Of course secure screens upon all windows and doors and keep those from entering from without. You may screen everything, however, and be inordinately particular about all cracks and crevices, yet if you have allowed a few score of flies to remain inside from the early spring, you will be amazed to find them present with you by the thousand. It is easier to spend a few minutes at this time in March and April to free yourself and exert your muscles day after day of the perspiring limit with a "swatter" in August. Then you will be spared many a hard hour's scouring and washing up if you solve the problem now by destroying the few survivors from last season. That fresh white wall or paper will look so much fresher too at the close of the season.

There are a great many things in life we cannot see with our eyes. It is only when we bring an improved aid to our help like the modern microscope that we see the great world of life beneath us. Pick up that fly that has just rested upon your table and examine him. He carries a colony of typhus germs in his left hind leg, a dozen diptheria and pneumonia bacilli upon his right wing, a whole brood of anthrax bacteria upon the point of his proboscis. There are thousands of consumption germs under his right leg. In fact there are thousands of other bacteria whose scientific name would spread across a whole page. There he is, just emerging from the butter to pass in to one of the good house wife's most inviting culinary creations to start colonies of living parasites as he laboriously makes his way along. It is a marvellous Providence that preserves these thoughts from constantly afflicting our mind. But let us beware at least of the common fly and his hidden dangers. He is no friend of ours. We are laboring under the delusion of the Hindoo who fears that the departed soul of his grandmother may be in that fly struggling upwards again after being punished, so for a mis-spent life. Swat him, and, thigh, without any compunctions of conscience.

A good Providence has put within the human system provision to slay intruding bacteria but when the system runs down, the natural protection of the body becomes enfeebled and the result is the spread of disease and contagion. So let us take no chances and remove the chief offender and conveyor of disease—the common fly and the mosquito.

Here is a message of hope and good cheer from Mrs. C. J. Martin, Bonne Mill, Va., who is the mother of eighteen children. Mrs. Martin was cured of stomach trouble and constipation by Chamberlain's Tablets after five years of suffering, and now recommends these tablets to the public. For sale by all dealers.

Ladies of Culture and Refinement Use Salvia Hair Tonic. It Makes the Hair Beautiful.
At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy this pest. The dandruff is caused by germs which are accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is not the root of all hair evils. SALVIA will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in ten days, or money back. The Lacombe Drug Co. guarantees it. It will grow hair, stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair thick and abundant. It prevents hair from turning grey, and adds life and lustre.

SALVIA is a hair dressing that has become the favorite with taste and culture, who know the actual value of beautiful hair. A large generous bottle costs only 50c., at leading druggists everywhere, and in Lacombe by the Lacombe Drug Co. The word "SALVIA" (Latin for sage) is on every bottle. (6)

CANADA'S RAILWAY DEVELOPMENT
Mail and Empire)
Canada has now 25,000 miles of railway track, which is 669 miles more than she had last year. That increase amounts to slightly more than two and one-half per cent. The growth of mileage is likely to be kept up at that rate for many years at least. In the next ten years 10,000 miles may be added. At the present time the railway companies are building new lines and extending old ones as fast as they can. The limit of their operations in this particular is that of the labor supply. They have the money, or can easily get the money for carrying out the building program they have now in hand.

When they go on the market to sell bonds or to secure loans they usually find the bidding free and the price good. Though one issue speedily follows another, and though the volume of capital upon which interest charges and dividend payments are to be distributed keeps on swelling accordingly, investors are not deterred from buying. The reason for the continued favor in which Canada's railway securities are held, in spite of the accumulated capital liability, is that the capital is manifestly well applied. Each railway station's position as an earner is made better by each capital outlay. Instead of loading the system, the series of new capital issues on its account increases its sweep and enlarges its net earning capacity. The capital liability was increased by $115,000,000 last year, but it at once creates new business that will yield a return. Many years should pass before there is any halt in Canadian railway building. The United States has something more than 240,000 miles of railway line, nearly ten times Canada's mileage. As we have a productive territory comparable in extent to that of the United States, Canada must have a railway mileage approaching that of its greater neighbor. Rapid was the progress of railway building across the United States. It will take five years for Canada to reach the hundred thousand mark that it took the United States.

The progress of settlement in going on at a different pace here. Whereas the United States settled rather solidly in sections, in Canada settlement has been spreading over the whole country almost from the beginning. One reason for the peculiarity of Canada's development is the early construction of the C. P. R., the only genuine transcontinental railway yet completed. At all events, Canada's problems of settlement called for the construction of other transcontinental railways, of which we will soon be able to say that the trunks of three are completed. But, as the case of the Canadian Pacific Railway shows the trunk line is out the beginning. Double tracking follows and there is no end; it would seem, to the sprouting out and further extending of branch lines. Canada's branch line mileage is growing fast, but it will grow much faster when the main lines of the National Transcontinental and the Canadian Northern extend from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

HUNDREDS OF KANSAS FARMERS PREPARING TO SETTLE IN ALBERTA

Hundreds of farmers are preparing to come to Alberta this spring, and already many of them are settling up their affairs preparatory to coming in the spring to this province.

George Armand, of Indianapolis, Kansas, is the authority for this statement, and at that he says his estimate is a conservative one.

"We have been hearing such a lot of Alberta that a party of us made a trip last summer," said Mr. Armand, "and what we saw decided us. We are coming back to settle but we are not coming back alone. I don't think the people of Alberta realize what an extensive amount of publicity they have been receiving from all sources in the past few years, and it is having its effect already. All over the States the one country that is being looked to is the Canadian West, and hundreds of people come well situated; that we from Kansas are coming here want to trade for land in this summer. In the other district—Lundy & Trimble.

states the same feverish excitement is being manifested in this country, and Canada's population should be increased by many thousands of good substantial farmers during 1912."

But 1912 will see only the start of immigration, according to Mr. Armand, who looks for the population of Western Canada to grow in the next three years to double and perhaps triple what it is today.
